Property Details

Split over various levels with a ground floor entrance, this spacious maisonette resides in a perfectly located, handsome converted Victorian terraced house. Set on a quiet street, in a popular residential pocket equidistant to Clapham and Brixton, appealing to purchasers looking to move to both of these two in-demand areas. With over 1500 square feet of internal space (including the loft spaces), generous proportions throughout and boastfully high ceilings, this apartment is truly a rare gem. Large windows flood each room and create a bright and airy atmosphere throughout. The property oozes a natural Victorian charm with feature fireplaces in every room and traditionally embellished ceilings. The classic period character is offset stylishly by high-end, modern and tasteful décor throughout, ideal for any purchasers looking to move into a new property hassle-free. One of the key selling points to this spacious maisonette is the sheer size on offer, which allows the layout to be altered depending on the new purchaser's search parameters. Last but not least there is access to substantial loft spaces, which subject to the necessary permissions, could be converted to increase the living spaces.
